COVID-19: Wyplay protects employees and guarantees continuity of professional engineering services

MARSEILLE, FRANCE – MARCH 17, 2020 – Wyplay takes the health threats posed by the arrival of Coronavirus in France seriously and is committed to unparalleled organization and transparency towards its employees. To protect employees and to ensure the perfect continuity of services, Wyplay has extended home office to the majority of employees, with a small cell of onsite engineers ensuring the operation of mission critical computers and servers.

Already accustomed to working internationally, with remote sites, time zone differences - Wyplay's organization and methodology will continue to operate as usual despite the barrier measures including containment and movement restrictions put in place by the French government.

The continuity of ongoing projects with Wyplay's clients is therefore ensured and the organization already in place will also allow us to start new client projects.
